author's spot: "Grandpa Hart"

If you need inspiration for 2005, here is one from one of our favorite authors:

"I was 82 years old when I wrote my first book, Grandpa and the Computer and got it published by Newmedia Publishing. Since then I wrote a poem which is in a book called Couliers of the Heart, that you can find in book stores all over the world.

My life has been exciting since I wrote that book. I am still doing pretty good and plan to keep writing more. I'll be 87 soon...."

hot off the press

What do I know? The two ebook titles I listed in our previous newsletter were released on time and budget, amazing even me:

- * Controlled Defense by Rick Tanos tells the story of a middle-aged computer geek who loses his job and family, but not his yen to create havoc. Being an avid Buffalo football fan, he invents a computerized helmet that changes everything....
- * The Perfect Method for Finding the Perfect Man by Mike Green is a book meant to change your life for the better, if you are seriously looking for Mr. Right.

hot on the burner

Of course, we don't sit on our ...laurels too long (like 5 minutes); we are about to publish an investment guide in January and our next iWords™ ebook by March:

- * The Chestnut and Cedar Stock Report by Joe Spinella is a must for those of us who actually want to learn how make money post Internet craze and 9/11. Look for it on Joe's web site, or in your favorite book and online stores.
- * Too Tough for Tears by Barry Goode - the wait is almost over!
